

“Our company mission is to Make a Difference in People’s Lives,” Robin said. “I try my best to make that difference each day.”

Chances are you’ve seen Robin Burrill out and about volunteering with the Colleyville Woman’s Club, the City of Keller Public Arts Board, Junior League of Fort Worth, American Society of Interior Designers, National Association of the Remodeling Industry or any one of her pet projects. If you notice an effervescent personality and a warm, welcoming smile on a gal who never seems to run out of energy or enthusiasm, she just might be Robin.

“My husband, Rob, has to rein me in,” Robin laughed. “But there are so many great organizations and so many worthy projects that I want to take them all on.” That enthusiasm and love of life has served Robin well in the business she and her husband share, Curb Appeal Renovations, an award-winning design/build remodeling firm.

“I’ve always loved design and working with Rob is a dream come true,” she said. “Renovating your home is exciting but it’s also physically and emotionally taxing. It’s important that clients can trust us, that Rob and I are there to alleviate much of the trauma and make the process fun for them. Our clients are entrusting us with their most prized and most valuable material possession—their home, which is a huge honor. Helping them improve their quality of living and making the process as enjoyable as possible is always rewarding for me.”
